

Worldlink Group Plc Admitted to Standard Segment of the London Stock Exchange

24 November 2011 | 7.00 AM

Worldlink Group Plc (“Worldlink” or the “Company”) (LSE: WGP), a provider of real-time financial information and owner of intellectual property in the transmission of mobile data sector, today announces its admission to trading on the standard segment of the London Stock Exchange. The Company’s shares are expected to commence trading under symbol WGP at 8.00am (GMT) on 24 November 2011.

Neil Riches, Managing Director, commented, “This is an important time for Worldlink as it works towards commercialising its intellectual property. Our objective now is to grant licences to parties infringing our patents. We will work with our legal advisers to bring proceedings against those that refuse.

“We are delighted with our admission to the LSE Standard market and consider that it marks a significant step for the company and will prove a good platform from which to build our business. We hope it will raise our profile, give us exposure to a wider investment audience and, in turn, provide our shareholders with improved liquidity.”

The market capitalisation at listing is anticipated to be circa £55m and the opening share price approximately £2.50.
